

Welsh Assembly Government - Direct and Variable Charging for Residual Waste from Householders

FTC in association with BRASS which is the Centre for Business Relationships, Accountability, Sustainability and Society operated within Cardiff University jointly undertook a study which examined the legal and practical mechanisms of considering the implementation of direct and variable charging for residual household waste.