

Ireland - Institute of Project Management Ireland-Munster Winner-Aidan Sullivan

September 2009

Taken from the Institute of Project Management Ireland website

Aidan Sullivan is a Senior Engineer at Fehily Timoney & Company an Irish owned Engineering and Environmental Consultancy with offices in Cork and Dublin.

He graduated with a degree in Civil & Environmental Engineering from UCD in 1998 and is a Chartered Engineer. He typically works on the design, project management and contract administration of civil engineering projects such as waste management facilities, wastewater treatment plants and drainage works for both public and private sector clients.